Shipping costs vary according to the location sent, but expect to pay $25-$50 for next day delivery within the continental United States. We require clients to insure the container for $250 when shipping it to or from its destination. HSF uses Federal Express for its deliveries, unless instructed otherwise by the client.

For weekend or rush delivery, we have a local airport with airlines equipped to deliver packages to any of the US Airports that they service 7 days a week. We have used US Airways on numerous occasions, and their service has been very reliable in the past. There is also United Airlines available for package delivery service if US Airways does not serve your local airport. The cost of using the US Airways 'PDF' Service is around $60, and the equitainer must be picked up at the destined airport rather than door to door delivery.
